

KENYA LIVESTOCK MARKET SYSTEMS

The Feed the Future Kenya Livestock Market Systems (LMS) program is strengthening people's resilience to shocks and stresses and is reducing the prevalence and depth of poverty, household hunger, and chronic undernutrition in northern Kenya.

Our Approach

The program's approach is based on the premise that through collective action; expanded and viable economic opportunities; strengthened institutions, systems, and governance; and improved human capital, people's resilience will be strengthened in the face of shocks and stresses. This will reduce the prevalence and depth of poverty, household hunger, and chronic undernutrition.

The program uses risk-informed, shock-responsive, and context-specific approaches to improve resilience in the five arid semi-arid lands (ASAL) counties of northern Kenya. LMS partners with both national and county governments to strengthen the delivery of priority and strategic social-economic interventions that will transform the lives and livelihoods of Kenyans. This approach is aligned with the Government of Kenya's priorities as defined in the Big Four Agenda, the Counties Integrated Development Plans, and Vision 2030. The program prioritizes co-investments with the government and leverages the private sector to sustainably scale community impacts. To ensure sustainability, LMS has deepened its engagement with county governments to build their capacity and to create an enabling environment through appropriate legislative processes for sustainable development and social accountability. LMS champions an inclusive Kenyan-led, -managed, and -owned development agenda, building the capacity of local institutions. LMS consists of a Leader Award, Associate Award One, and Associate Award Two.

Supporting the Objectives with Grant Opportunities: Leader Award

The Leader Award is the management platform that works to maximize the capacity and collective impact of associate awards and beneficiaries. It provides grants totaling $8 million as well as administrative support for the associate awards. It also promotes resource sharing and exchanges among counties and implementing partners.

Expanding and Diversifying Viable Economic Opportunities: Associate Award I

This program is building vibrant market systems in livestock and other industries, enabling households to generate more income within the sector and diversify their income sources. In doing so, households—with a focus on young people and women—build resilience and create sustained pathways out of poverty. It also facilitates an improved enabling environment for inclusive economic growth, providing financial services to individuals and micro, small, and medium enterprises (MSMEs) to help them grow their income and businesses. This approach helps facilitate a more competitive livestock value chain for pastoralists moving up in the livestock market system.

Strengthening Community Capacities for Resilience and Growth: Associate Award 2

Empowering communities and strengthening institutional systems helps to mitigate risks, especially to those most vulnerable like girls and youth, and expand local capacity to manage important resources. To achieve inclusive and sustainable growth, the program uses strategies to equip more individuals and communities with the skills, resources, and information needed to benefit from expanding economic opportunities and to strengthen their resilience capacities. The program also focuses on strengthening the capacity of the county governments to manage rangeland and water resources and assists with the development of multi-hazard response plans to help the communities and counties mitigate risks and disasters.
